DCMO-BOCES Seeks Quality Candidates

NORWICH—Job seekers in greater Chenango will soon have an opportunity to meet directly with one of the area’s largest employers looking to fill a variety of local positions. DCMO BOCES will host an exclusive job fair with the goal of matching long-term candidates with positions based on experience, education, and qualifications.

Newly established programming for students has created a new need for certified professional staff - teachers, teaching assistants, and either a licensed school counselor, or a school psychologist, or a school social worker. In addition, BOCES has many entry-level support staff positions available, including custodial workers, cooks, clerical staff. All BOCES positions offer employees good pay; great benefits, including health insurance, participation in the state retirement system, and paid days off.

“We understand the competitive nature of the current labor market and are excited to be able to showcase the opportunities that are available at DCMO-BOCES. This hiring event will allow prospective employees to learn more about positions available at the BOCES and to share how their experiences fit with our needs. This is an excellent opportunity for interested people to join a team to work with children and help mold our future,” said District Superintendent Perry Dewey.

DCMO BOCES is required to follow state-mandated protocols for public schools regarding COVID-19. Masks are required to be worn at all times in our buildings. Employees must either be vaccinated or be willing to test weekly for COVID.

Those interested in joining the team at DCMO should bring along a resume and be prepared for an initial screening interview. Applicants are invited to peruse job postings and encouraged to download and complete employment applications ahead of the event by visiting dcmoboces.com/EmploymentOpportunities. ➡
