

A black and white advertisement for Broken Spoke Saloon. The background features a bottle of beer, a glass of milk, a burger, and a glass of fries. An American flag is draped across the bottom left. The text is arranged in several sections: a starburst in the top left, a main headline in the top right, the restaurant name in large stylized letters in the center, a second starburst in the bottom left, and the address and phone number in the bottom right. A wagon wheel icon is positioned between the restaurant name and the contact information.
